Darwinism

by Nightcrawler247

Summary

The world has ended in a zombie apocalypse.

When Hannibal was bitten he found that not much had changed. Other then his new favorite part of the body to eat is the brain. For some reason he maintained his ogicaly and thinking mind unlike the other horrdes of zombies in his city now. However, he finds that when he gets too hunger he gets... dumber and meaner. He slowly loses his sense until he blacks out and eventually finds himself waking up to raw brain in his mouth, in a random location with a traveling heard of zombies feasting on some poor unlucky soul they caught.

Honestly with as boring as life has gotten in the apocalypse he starves himself just for the surprise of waking up somewhere new.

He never expected the next time he did that he'd run into a zombie just like him.

or

Will and Hannibal are the only thinking zombies as far as they can tell and they slowly fall in love in this new world of predator and prey. Good thing they're the predators.

Notes

See the end of the work for notes

Hannibal never expected to find love. He certainly didn't expect to find love after the world had ended.

But the sight of clear blue intelligent eyes gazing at him with a mouth full gushing raw brains and a deep sigh of relief leaving him at the of food after so long was enough to make any lonely zombie quiver.

He only hopes Will felt the same level of attraction when they first met locked knowing eyes.
